DEATH AND SURVIVORS' BENEFITS

BENEFITS PAYABLE AFTER THE DEATH OF A CURRENT FEDERAL EMPLOYEE

Survivors and family members of someone who is employed by the federal government at the time of death should contact the agency or department to report the death. If you leave federal service before becoming eligible for an immediate annuity and die, your heirs would be eligible for a lump-sum payment of your retirement contributions.

BENEFITS PAYABLE AFTER THE DEATH OF AN ANNUITANT

The types of benefits and the amounts payable to survivors upon the death of a federal annuitant will depend on each particular case. Death benefits may be paid by Social Security, the Office of Federal Employees' Group Life Insurance (OFEGLI) and the federal agency administering the retiree's retirement system. The Office of Personnel Management (OPM) administers the Civil Service Retirement System (CSRS) and the Federal Employees Retirement System (FERS), the two that cover most federal employees, retirees and survivors. Survivors and family members of deceased retirees can obtain valuable help from NARFE chapter service officers and NARFE Service Center volunteers.

Three-Step Process

- 1. Payments and checks issued after the date of the retiree's death must be returned to the Treasury Department because government payments to a deceased person cannot be negotiated by any other person, including the executor or administrator of the deceased retiree's estate. The eligible survivor or person reporting the retiree's death needs to return any uncashed annuity checks to the return address shown on the envelope in which the annuity or Social Security check arrived. Any annuity that was accrued for the retiree through the date of his or her death will be included in the benefits payable to the eligible survivor(s). If payments have been sent directly to a bank or other financial institution, the bank or financial institution must be promptly notified of the retiree's death. Any payments deposited after the date of the retiree's death must be left untouched. The agency that issued the payment will ask the Treasury Department to recover it.
- 2. The eligible survivor or person reporting the retiree's death should notify the agencies that are paying benefits by telephone:
 - Social Security Administration: 800-772-1213
 - Office of Personnel Management (OPM): 888-767-6738 (toll-free)If you cannot reach OPM by phone, you can report the death online at <https://rsreporting.opm.gov/AnnuitantDeath/ReportAnnuitantDeath> or in writing by sending a notice to the OPM Retirement Operations Center, P.O. Box 45, Boyers, PA 16017-0045, Attn: Death Claims; or you can email the information to OPM at retire@opm.gov.

The person reporting the retiree's death will need to provide the information included in the Sample Notification included at the end of this guide. The individual will be able to talk to a customer service specialist or leave a message reporting the retiree's death. OPM will then have the information needed to identify the retiree's records. Once the agency receives the notification of death, it will stop benefits payments. OPM will then notify the person or persons who are eligible for death benefits that they may apply for those benefits. OPM also will send the application for life insurance, which must be completed and sent to the Office of Federal Employees' Group Life Insurance (OFEGLI). Once an application is received, OPM can finalize the survivor's death benefits, including any applicable Federal Employees Health Benefits coverage for survivor annuitants.

- 3. Certified copies of the retiree's death certificate should be obtained to enclose with death benefits applications, for example, from OPM, OFEGLI, and the Social Security Administration. The retiree's death certificate is important because it establishes the retiree's exact date of death for the agencies that pay death benefits.

If additional information is needed, it will be requested by the agency responsible for the payment of the death benefits for which applications have been submitted. Other evidence that might be requested may include copies of marriage certificates, birth certificates, divorce decrees, death certificates for deceased children or spouses, or other documents establishing identity or relationship to the deceased retiree -- the types of personal records that any reasonably prudent person would keep in a safe place. OPM, Social Security, OFEGLI, etc., will only request evidence that is not already on file with the deceased retiree's records.

As noted previously, if the retiree had FEGLI coverage, OPM will send out applications for benefits to designated beneficiaries or persons entitled to the life insurance under the FEGLI order of precedence. Survivors of a deceased retiree do not need to notify or contact OFEGLI. OPM will notify OFEGLI and will certify that the retiree was covered by FEGLI and the amount of the retiree's life insurance coverage. After that, OFEGLI will make payments to eligible survivors who have submitted applications for benefits.

DEATH OF AN ANNUITANT'S SPOUSE

When an annuitant's spouse dies, the annuitant should act as soon as possible to send OPM a copy of the spouse's death certificate, along with any other applicable requests and statements (see Sample Notification at the end of this guide). The annuitant also can obtain assistance in notifying OPM from his or her chapter service officer or the local NARFE Service Center.

Restoration to Full Annuity Rate

If an annuitant has elected a full or partial survivor annuity for his or her spouse, the annuitant can have the annuity restored to the full, unreduced rate if the spouse predeceases the annuitant. The restoration to the unreduced rate is effective as of the first day of the month after the date of the spouse's death. The annuitant should notify OPM that he or she wants to have the annuity restored to the full rate by writing to the OPM Retirement Operations Center, P.O. Box 45, Boyers, PA 16017-0045.

The Report of Death (Sample Notification) can be used to notify OPM, along with a copy of the spouse's death certificate. Any items applicable to the individual annuitant's situation should be covered in the letter.

Federal Employees Health Benefits (FEHB)

The annuitant should request that his or her FEHBP enrollment be changed from Self and Family or Self Plus One coverage to Self Only coverage, if there are no other family members (e.g., minor children, disabled or eligible grandchildren) who are entitled to FEHB coverage under the annuitant's enrollment. This can be taken care of immediately by contacting OPM by phone at 888-767-6738.

Designations of Beneficiaries

If the annuitant wants to designate a new beneficiary or beneficiaries for his or her unassigned FEGLI coverage, and for any unexpended retirement monies in the Civil Service Retirement Fund (which covers both CSRS and FERS), he or she should request that OPM send new designation forms. These are: SF 2823 for FEGLI, SF 2808 for CSRS, SF 3102 for FERS. These forms are available for download on OPM's website. In addition, if the annuitant has a Thrift Savings Plan (TSP) account, the annuitant should contact the TSP Office to request form TSP-3, "Designation of Beneficiary." The address is: Thrift Savings Plan Office, P.O. Box 385021, Birmingham, AL 35238. The phone number is 877-968-3778. The form also can be downloaded from the TSP website at www.tsp.gov.

Make sure that all of your beneficiary forms are up to date, both with your designated beneficiary(ies) and to ensure that the addresses are current.

Family Life Insurance

If the deceased spouse was covered under the annuitant's Option C FEGLI Family Insurance, the annuitant also should request FEGLI form FE6-DEP, "Statement of Claim," to file for the life insurance benefits.

Income Tax Withholding

If the annuitant wants to change the amount of federal or state income tax being withheld from his or her annuity, the annuitant can do this online at www.opm.gov/retire. The change also can be made by phone by calling 888-767-6738. The annuitant will need to have the retirement claim number and personal identification number or Social Security number. The annuitant also can write to OPM at the address above. OPM will change the tax withholding as requested by the annuitant. No special forms are required.

Legal Consultation

The annuitant should consult with his or her legal adviser and review the will and other important financial and estate-related documents.

DEATH OF A SURVIVOR ANNUITANT

If your spouse is deceased, you also may want to complete a designation of beneficiary form for FEGLI. If you do not receive this form when you report your spouse's death, you can request it from OPM. An executor or a survivor spouse of a deceased survivor annuitant must take certain actions pertaining to the survivor annuity of the deceased survivor annuitant as soon as possible. NARFE chapter service officers and NARFE Service Center volunteers are available to assist in taking the necessary actions.

When a survivor annuitant dies, his or her entitlement to survivor annuity payments ends at the end of the month prior to the date of the survivor annuitant's death. Any uncashed or non-negotiated annuity checks sent to the survivor annuitant, regardless of when received, and any annuity payments that are directly deposited to a bank or other financial institution after the date of death must be returned.

The following actions should be taken:

- 1. Return any uncashed or non-negotiated survivor annuity checks to the return mail address on the Department of the Treasury envelope in which the check was mailed. If the payments are direct deposits in a bank or financial institution, notify the bank or financial institution of the survivor annuitant's death so that the bank will not accept any further survivor annuity payments for the deceased. Any payments deposited to the decedent's account after the date of death will be automatically returned to the Department of the Treasury. Any checks or payments issued after the date of the survivor annuitant's death will be recovered at the direction of OPM.
- 2. Send a letter reporting the survivor annuitant's death, along with a copy of the decedent's death certificate, to: OPM Retirement Operations Center, P.O. Box 45, Boyers, PA 16017-0045.

This letter should include the decedent's full name and address, civil service claim number, Social Security number, date of birth, date of death and the relationship of the decedent (if any) to the letter writer. The Sample Notification at the end of this booklet may be used for this purpose. OPM will remove the deceased survivor annuitant's name from the annuity rolls to prevent any further payments from being sent.

If the survivor annuitant had a TSP account or an annuity, the TSP Service Office should be contacted to report the death: Thrift Savings Plan Office, P.O. Box 385021, Birmingham, AL 35238. You also can call 877-968-3778. For TSP death benefits to be processed, survivors should submit form TSP17, "Information Relating to Deceased Participant," along with a copy of the participant's certified death certificate.

If there are any questions about these procedures or you need assistance, contact the nearest NARFE chapter service officer or NARFE Service Center volunteer. If you do not have the contact information, call the NARFE Member Records Department at 800-456-8410 and request the name, address and telephone number for the nearest chapter service officer or NARFE Service Center volunteer.

VA BENEFITS

If the annuitant is a veteran, some Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) benefits may be available for both the eligible veteran and the surviving spouse. These benefits could include dependency and indemnity compensation, and burial and memorial benefits. Burial benefits in a VA national cemetery are available for eligible veterans, their spouses and dependents at no cost to the family, and include the grave site, grave-liner, opening and closing of the grave, a headstone or marker, and perpetual care. The funeral director or next of kin can make interment arrangements by contacting the national cemetery in which burial is desired and where burial is available. VA also will pay a burial allowance and reimburse for burial expenses in some circumstances.

The forms that are needed to process any applicable claims include a copy of the veteran's marriage certificate for claims of a surviving spouse and the veteran's death certificate if the veteran did not die in a VA health care facility. For eligibility information, phone VA at 800-827-1000. The VA benefits handbook also is available on the VA website at www.va.gov.
